National Lost Penny Day

Marilyn Helmer

Yes, Folks, there is a National Lost Penny Day, celebrated each year on February 12. Whatever popularity the day might have had in Canada has been virtually eliminated by our government's decision to drop the penny from our currency. The last Canadian penny was produced in May of 2012 and the mint ceased distribution of it on February 4, 2013. Although our penny may be lost, it lives on in the names of objects and expressions that have coined their way into our language.

The Penny-farthing, a style of bicycle popular in the late 1800s, was so named due to the resemblance of its front wheel to a large penny coin and its back wheel to a small farthing. The large penny wheel absorbed much of the shock while traversing rough roads, allowing adventurous cyclists to ride in relative comfort. Like the penny though, the Penny-farthing became obsolete when advances in technology lead to newer and safer bicycle design.

In early 1800s, British readers were introduced to a new form of literature called the Penny Dreadful. These serialized stories were printed weekly and only cost a penny. The name is actually an insult to the innocent penny. The stories, also known as Penny Horrible, Penny Awful and Penny Blood, give a clue to the fact that they were hardly quality literature. If you need added proof, consider that Penny Dreadfuls were often sold to onlookers at public executions, a souvenir of a dreadful form of entertainment at that time.

The Penny Whistle, also called Tin Whistle, Flagelet and Irish or Belfast Whistle, is a small woodwind instrument similar to a flute or recorder. Although archaeologists have discovered similar instruments carved from wood and bone dating back centuries BC, the Penny Whistle did not become popular until the mid-1800s. The name likely came from spectators tossing pennies to street performers in appreciation of their entertainment. Penny Whistles were also sold to the public from handcarts by street vendors.

Oh, the childhood joys of Penny Candy when, for a single penny, children could choose from such delectable delights as blackballs, jelly beans, lollipops, honeymoons, jawbreakers and even small bags of potato chips. As well, there were the gumball machines, where you could insert your penny into a slot, give the handle a quick turn and receive a gumball and, if you were lucky, a charm to add to your collection.

Announcing that you need to Spend a Penny was a polite way of saying that you needed to use the bathroom. In London in the 1850s, locks were placed on the doors of public toilets necessitating the need of a penny to open the lock. Pity the poor fools who waited until the last minute only to find that they didn't have a penny in their pocket.

With the demise of the penny, we can no longer offer a penny for one's thoughts or look forward to pennies falling from heaven. Maybe it's time to look toward the loonie as a replacement, suggesting that a loonie saved is a loonie earned, that you might be cut off without a loonie or as an idea becomes clear, the loonie drops. And always have a loonie in your pocket in case of a pay toilet.

President's Message

Keith Solomon, 131 Bristlecone Court

Let it snow, let it snow, let it snow

Just when we hoped we would escape winter, it arrived with a vengeance! Along with the cold and snow come the debates about clearing the roads – how much snow should fall before they scrape, icy patches, etc. As I have received several phone calls on these subjects, I thought it might be helpful to everyone if I addressed them this month.

Remember that Pine Meadows covers a large area and has an extensive network of roads. The staff takes pride in making the community attractive and safe, winter or summer. But, not having a magic wand, the road crew needs time to get all the roads, driveways, and communal parking areas cleared.

As Jayne has pointed out in her annual snow-letter, if you have an early appointment, give the office as much warning as possible and they will try and accommodate you. Under normal circumstances, the crew alternates between starting points so we all experience their services on an equal extent. Depending on the amount of snow, it could take several hours before they do “your” road, but your turn will come.

Even one or two centimeters of snow, when compacted by cars or people walking, can turn into a slipping hazard for some of our residents. We would like to keep all residents safe and trust the judgement of the snow crew. We and the snow crew remember the ice-storm of April 2018 and they try to avoid another snowmagedon. Like the weather mavens, they are not always right but, in my opinion, to err on the side of caution is a good thing.

A complete snow clearing in Pine Meadows costs in the region of $1500, about $8.00 per house, cheaper than a glass of wine at a restaurant, and is like insurance, you do not always need it but it is essential when the worst happens.

Recently we had a very heavy snowfall overnight and early morning, followed by rain. People were concerned that salt had not been put down to prevent the rain freezing and turning to ice. There is not much point in salting when it is raining hard as it will just be washed away. In this instance, the roads had to be cleared of snow before any salt could be spread and the clearing took all morning.

With the fluctuating temperatures there will be more occasions for icy roads and sidewalks. We need to take responsibility for keeping ourselves safe by not venturing forth if we don't have to and checking on our frailer neighbours to see if we can assist them, so they don't have to go out. I believe that the key word here is patience—it will all get done eventually—and, above all, keep safe.

MAINTENANCE COST REVIEW COMMITTEE (MCRC)

Barry Wood, Recording Secretary

Snow clearing for the month of December continued to be relatively light and other maintenance costs were lower than usual so that December's costs were the lowest of the year and the lowest since November 2016.

As reported in last month's Pine Line, a number of projects have been initiated for December with the acquisition of the materials needed for the installation of new T-bars, ceiling tiles and shower stall partitions for the men's and women's change rooms as well as the upgrading of the current fluorescent lighting in the Recreation Centre and the Workshop to more efficient LED lighting. The installation of the change room upgrades will continue into January, 2019. Despite these special project costs for December, residents can still expect a significant refund on their 2018 maintenance cost fees.

The maintenance cost report for December, 2018 has been posted in the Boardroom for you to review. This report, prepared by the management of Pine Meadows Retirement Community Limited, shows all expense items, revenue items, costs per home per month and many other details.

Please take a moment to take a look at the report and if you have any questions you can contact Joe Piercey, the MCRC chair, by telephone at 647 294-2980 or email at pierceyjoe62@gmail.com and he will be more than pleased to research your questions, or you can contact any of the MCRC members.

Using the Panic Button

Keith Solomon

Gord Wood, a resident from Pine Meadows, contacted me to suggest an alternative signal that could be used by residents to call for help if they are in trouble. He got this from a friend in the US. This might be a useful addition to the emergency contact procedures currently recommended for residents (the document with the bright orange cover).

Most cars have a panic alarm (honking of the horn) that can be activated from the key fob. If you have the fob with you, you can push the little red button and activate the horn-alarm of the car if you need help. Of course, people in Pine Meadows would have to know to investigate or call someone if they hear non-stop honking. If the car is in the garage, the sound might not travel very far, but neighbours should be able to hear. The Board of the PMHA believes that this is worth considering as part of the emergency contact network. So, if you hear honking from a car or a garage at Pine Meadows do not ignore it, please investigate, you might save a life or prevent complications from an injury.

New Year's Eve Gala

Pearl Davis – Social Chair

What a terrific way to usher out 2018 and welcome in 2019!!!!

The evening began with a social hour where people could meet old and new friends. This was followed by a delicious dinner of ham, scalloped potatoes and vegetables prepared by Mike and served by Julie and their crew from the Belwood store. Then we were served a variety of Mike's famous mouth- watering butter tarts.

Paul Hock, our D.J. for the evening, played a variety of soft music throughout the meal.

The dance floor was hopping all night with slow dances, fast dances, line dances and just good old fashion group dances. Great music, Paul.

The evening just flew by. Spot dances were won by: Bill and Elizabeth White and Cathy and Andy Keen. Door prizes were won by: Sue Scott, Bonnie Jovanan, Ken Chalmers, Connie Matts and Lou Pabst.

The Main door prize, a $50 gift certificate to The Brewhouse Restaurant in Fergus, was won by Jean Walker.

Our two Early bird winners, who won back the price of their ticket, were: Carol Doyon and Barry Wood. Congratulations to all of them.

Thank you to our Sponsors: The Heritage River Retirement Home, the Brew House Restaurant and Paul Hock for our door prizes.

A special thank you to Rick Rock for giving us the screen show throughout the night and the countdown at midnight.

Kudos again to the Social Committee for an outstanding job and to all who helped to tidy up the hall.

Wishing you all the best in 2019

Scavenger Hunt

Don and Joan Ferrier, The Social Committee

New! New! New for you - from your social committee!!!

We are going to have a scavenger hunt on Saturday, March 23.

Simple rules are: A team gets together and solves riddles about everyday household items. They then give the sheet of completed riddles and the matching items to the social committee for scoring. The teams, then come back to the Grand Hall later for dinner (also their items) and a few laughs.

Need an example? Here are 2 riddles.

1. Part of my name is a type of meat. I'll hurt you if I'm dropped on your thumb or feet.
2. From A to zee, 19 and 16 is what I be.

Sound like fun? It will be hilarious.

Mark your calendars and get your team together. We need at least 50 players (teams are to be a maximum of 6).

Signup sheets will be going up in February.

Cost: $8/person for prizes and dinner (probably deli style)

For more information, call the Ferrier's at: 226 486-2405 or the Davis's at: 226 486-1254)

Groves Fundraisers

Sue Anderson

I recently received the following message from Lori Arsenault, Groves Hospital Foundation. I would like to share this message with you, the residents of Pine Meadows, who have been and still are huge supporters and contributors to the Groves Hospital Foundation.

There are several events planned for the next several months, including our February movie night and another roast beef dinner in the spring.

Exciting things are happening at Groves! Construction is well underway on the New Groves Hospital and remains on schedule. Construction will continue over the winter on the interior of the building. The new hospital is expected to be complete in late 2019, with move in taking place over a period of several months, and opening of the new facility is scheduled for Spring 2020. We have been so grateful for the support of our community to date and now have less than $3M to raise, to purchase vital equipment to furnish the hospital.

Thank you to the Residents of Pine Meadows for your generous continued support of Groves, with over $350,000 raised (including $6,000 from the recent "Quarter-a-Day" fundraiser)! Thank you to all of the Residents who continue to support the future of our hospital.

Court Whist Monday, January 14

Pearl Davis, Social Chair

We had thirteen tables of happy residents, forty-seven of the fifty-six who signed up came so we had to have one table of three. With a little explanation from Pearl, each game moved along smoothly.

We were able to nibble on delicious snacks of kettle popcorn, chocolate almonds, jelly beans, peanuts, crunchy Cheetos, and Bits and Bites, as we played.

The following were our lucky, or should I say skilled, winners:

First place winner of $35 was Sandy Campbell with a score of 212

Second place winner of $30 was John Doherty with 209; and Third place winner of $15 was Barbara Lindsay with 198.

The "booby" prize went to Clyde Henry with 137.

Share the Wealth winners of $20 each were: Sandy Campbell (who actually won twice but donated her second win back), Norm Webb and Pearl Davis.

Congratulations to all the winners.

Thanks to everyone who supported this event and to those who helped to put the tables away.

Dark Chocolate Cranberry Magic Bars

We have all made Magic Bars but this one is a little different!! Try it!!

INGREDIENTS

CRUST
1 cup cold, cubed, unsalted butter
1/3 cup powdered sugar

1 1/4 cup all-purpose flour
FILLING
12oz dark chocolate chips
2/3 cups dried cranberries
1 1/2 cup shredded coconut
1/2 cup chopped pecans
14oz sweetened condensed milk

DIRECTIONS

Crust Step 1

Preheat oven to 350.

Add butter, sugar, and flour to a large bowl and use a fork or party cutter to bring ingredients together into pea sized crumbs.

Press evenly into foil lined and greased 9x13" pan.

Bake 12 minutes.

Filling Step 2

Sprinkle chocolate, cranberries, coconut, and pecans evenly over crust.

Pour condensed milk over toppings and bake 18 minutes.

Let cool before cutting into bars.

Best if stored covered in the refrigerator.

Love bears all things, believes all things,
hopes all things, endures all things...

Display Case

Joyce Giddings

Standing in the foyer after exercise class, there were a few people looking at the display case. I overheard someone exclaim that they didn't realize that Irene Fitz-James could paint. If the paintings on display are any indication, she most certainly can.

Irene said that she painted for about 15 years, although she hasn't done anything recently. She is self-taught and has never taken any formal lessons. Irene bought a couple of books on how to paint, picked up a brush and it just seemed to flow. Obviously, she has artistic talents. This talent also is evident in her quilting.

For 27 years Irene and her husband wintered south of Clearwater, Florida. Here she painted with a group of friends who would put on art shows and sell their artwork to tourists looking for souvenirs.

Irene has such a positive outlook on life. She likes to keep busy and says that people are much happier if they have things to do.

If you are so inclined and would like to share your hidden talents or hobbies with the Pine Meadows Community, please contact Bonnie Bottomley.

I hear that Nicole Bernou is going to share her camel collection with us in February and Irene has some beautiful floral paintings that we might see in the spring.

Please join us in the Grand Hall on Thursday, February 28, at 6:30 p.m. for a special movie/Hawaiian theme night.

The movie: The Book Club

Price: $5.00 per person

Please add your name to the sign-up sheet on the bulletin board(s) so we know how much popcorn to supply.

Please bring your own beverage of choice, however punch will be provided

This is a special event to raise money for our new hospital

Come and join us for a great evening!!! And – if you feel so inclined.....wear a Hawaiian costume in keeping with our theme for the evening.

Pool Table Etiquette Tips

Terry Filce

In order to preserve the pool tables in Pine Meadows, this is a reminder of what users should remember in consideration of both the equipment and other players.

Firstly, the two larger tables are snooker tables. What does this mean? On snooker tables, there is a nap to the cloth. This directional nap means that the tables can only be brushed in one direction. In the case of our tables, the brushing needs to be done towards the windows in both cases. When brushing, make straight strokes only, no sweeping curved strokes. Brushes are designed to clean along the length of the rails or cushions under the edge. TABLES ARE TO BE BRUSHED AFTER EVERY USE.

The remaining table is a billiard table. The cloth on this table has no directional nap and can be brushed in either direction. THIS TABLE IS TO BE BRUSHED AFTER EACH USE AS WELL, PLEASE.

Please do not place your coats or anything else on the pool tables. Repetitive instances of this are not good for the cloth over a period of time. For the sake of the equipment and the economy of preserving a pristine surface, put your coats and other items on a chair or table or in the cloakroom.

Another item of housekeeping is the white boards. If you use them, please clean them off before leaving the pool room.

If you lose a tip on a cue, or have another equipment issue, please let me know and I will try to take care of it.

If anyone needs clarification on a particular rule, there are books in the closet, or give me a call.

Thank you and enjoy you time at the tables - the only time you want to be behind the eight ball.
