

Still Mine

December 1st

It has been said that "Sometimes Laws & Rules can mean a loss of freedom-a man can only do what he thinks is right". This was the case for 87 year old Craig Morrison, a farmer from New Brunswick, who fought back when local authorities hamper his efforts to build a cottage on his land for his dementia-stricken wife.

James Cromwell & Genevieve Bujold portray the real life story of Craig & Irene Morrison.
